DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed January 3, 2003 (Paper No. 35) has been entered. Claims 26-54 have been newly added. Claims 1, 3-21, 23, and 25 have been cancelled.

Accordingly, Claims 26-54 are pending in the instant application.

The following rejections are reiterated and constitute the complete set of rejections being applied to the instant application. Rejections and objections not reiterated from the previous office action are hereby withdrawn.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on January 3, 2003 (Paper No. 35) has been entered.

The new matter rejection of Claims 1, 3-21, and 23 under 35 U.S.C. first paragraph, set forth at page 3 of the Office Action of Paper No. 30 is withdrawn in view of the cancellation of these claims.

Although new Claims 26-53 recite "a self-replicating origin of replication operative in mammalian host cells" the Examiner accepts Applicants arguments that sufficient support is provided in the specification. At page 6, paragraph 5 of the response, Applicants argue that non-viral origins of replication operative in mammalian cells are disclosed in the specification. As support, Applicants now point to the specification at page 13, paragraph 2 and the citation of Wohlgemuth et al. (1996) for teaching non-viral, mammalian sequences providing a self-replicating function. Thus, the Examiner accepts that the specification does contemplate the genus of replication origins now recited in the claims.

The rejection of Claims 1 and 10 under 35 U.S.C. 102(e), as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,022,738 (Atwell et al., 2000; filed March 3, 1995) is withdrawn in view of the cancellation of these claims. The new claims recite a vector comprising "a self-replicating origin of replication operative in mammalian cells." Although Atwell teaches an LCR-containing plasmid generally, Atwell does not specifically teach an LCR-containing plasmid having an origin of replication operative in mammalian cells, and therefore does not anticipate the instant claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 50 and 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for reasons of record as applied to Claim 22 in the Office Action of Paper No. 5 (mailed 7/9/99), as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Also see the Advisory Action of Paper No. 32 (mailed 11/1/02).

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 39-49, 51, and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 39 is indefinite in its recitation of "i)" twice in the claim. Claims 40-49. 51, and 53 are indefinite in so far as they depend from Claim 39.

Conclusion

Claims 26-38, 52, and 54 are allowable.
